Work History

January 2010 - Present

IT Engineer, BT, London

Working for this large communications company it was my job to ensure that the entire infrastructure was installed and working correctly. I had to set up the whole of the broadband infrastructure and server farms for the whole of London. Connecting each line for each domestic home to the network and identifying any issues or tampering with the line.

January 2008- January 2010

IT Engineer, Call masters, London.

As a IT Engineer in this large high volume call centre it was my duty to ensure that the infrastructure was implemented so that all calls were routed through a secure recording server to monitor all calls, and ensure they logged the call on the computer system for compliance reasons. I had to source and install the system myself and then ensure that each phone line and computer was connected to it.

January 2007 – January 2008

IT Engineer, Office Angel, London

Working for this large office personnel company as a IT Engineer it was my responsibility to ensure that all of the servers and phone lines worked correctly. We used VOIP telephony so I had to configure all systems to work with that, and then connect each system to the required servers to share workload to avoid overuse of one server. I would on occasion have to upgrade servers.
